PRACTICING OPTOMETRISTS

By now, most of you are aware of recent changes in the curriculum leading to the O.D. degree at the College. These changes, we feel, will enable us to educate young men and women for the practice of optometry consistent with the demands of the future scope of optometry in this nation. This new curriculum is coordinated within two academic divisions: the Division of Visual Sciences and the Division of Patient Care.

Because the College feels a responsibility not only to produce a superiorly educated optometrist, but also to the optometrist after graduation a new academic division has been established: the Division of

ELECTION RESULTS ANNOUNCED ALUMNI REPRESENTATIVE ON BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF M.C.O. NAMED AT DECEMBER MEETING

One of the highlights of the meeting of the Alumni Association members held on December 3rd, 1971 at the Colonial Inn in Lynnfield, Mass. was the opening of the sealed ballots mailed in for the purpose of electing a second representative of the Alumni Association on the Board of Trustees of the College. The considerable interest displayed by the members was evidenced by the number of ballots received and the contest was close. Of the five candidates, Dr. Alton Lamont, class of '55, headed the list and was warmly congratulated by Dr. William Baldwin, who attended the meeting. Dr. Glen Gulezian, as President of the Association, also congratulated Dr. Lamont on his election and expressed the thought that now that the alumni have two representatives on the Board,

The Editors of the Alumni Bulletin suggest that all students at M.C.O. and at other colleges throughout the country make a special effort to obtain and read an article published in the January 1972 Consumers Reports.

The article "Caveat Emptor on Campus" is on page 50 of this issue of the Consumers Reports under a heading of "Economics for Consumers" and is pertinent to a problem which has already hit some recent graduates of M.C.O., leading to a question of credit standing at a period in a professional career when a good credit rating will form a firm base for future professional success.

The college senior and graduate market for life insurance has been extensively developed without regard for the real need or ability to pay for at this particular time in a student's life. The inducement and selling point of obtaining a low rate on life insurance by buying while young seems to override the fact that the student is not yet earning enough to pay the premiums, the future financial picture is clouded by the necessity not only to pay back the loans, BUT ALSO, the compounded finance charge. CAVEAT EMPTOR!!

OPEN LETTER FROM PRES. BALDWIN

As new years begin, it is appropriate to assess past achievements and future prospects for accomplishment. I comment on the past only to say that I think tremendous strides have been taken to bring optometric education in New England to a position of great importance and utility to the constituencies served by the College. The principal message I would like to convey in this New Year's Greeting to New Year's Greeting to New England optometrists, however, is that your dedication to the College and your support of programs make the future bright indeed. In an earlier message in the Alumni News, I pointed out that one major element in our success would be INVOLVEMENT of New England optometrists in large number and on a broad scale. Your support has been extraordinary! A prime example is your response to the Building Fund Campaign. Not everyone has made a gift or a pledge, but more than half of those who were contacted personally have! In the ten months since the fund drive for our new building began, almost $300,000 has been pledged! This is half our goal which we now expect to reach in 1972. Not only are these funds vital to our building program, but the magnitude of your support has had great impact on other members of the ophthalmic community who have been contacted.

1972 is also a target year for developing affiliation with Boston University. We expect this affiliation to permit us to improve our academic and service programs in many ways. We will keep you informed of our progress.

In 1972, we also hope to make first-rate continuing education courses available to all New England optometrists, thereby strengthening the ties which bind us together.

Thank you for giving us cause for optimism in 1972. May your year be rewarding.

Gratefully,

Wm. R. Baldwin
President

Dr. Lamont and his wife, Joan, have two children and reside at 7 Clubhouse Lane, Wayland, Massachusetts. He practices Optometry in offices located at 1061 Washington Street, West Newton.

President's Corner

1972! It looks like a "leap" year of change!

Changes in your Alumni Association are also taking shape as we usher in twelve more months of alumni activity.

In 1971 we saw the beginning of many new and interesting innovations at M.C.O. Let me quickly outline a few:

1. A NEW CAMPUS — Last year the physical campus was moved to our new buildings on Beacon Street, overlooking the Charles. Extensive renovation and remodeling followed; thus the students as well as the faculty have a unique physical plant to enhance their optical education.

2. BUILDING FUND DRIVE — The goal of $300,000 by January 1st of this year is just $25,000 short of being met. Our grand total of $650,000 is within sight, but we still need your help! Are you included?

To date, a total of 209 optometrists have pledged $250,000. (The additional $25,000, making up a total of $275,000 is made up of cash payments.) The following have pledged over a five year period:

1 pledged $6,000	103 pledged 11,000
10 pledged 5,000	29 pledged 500
23 pledged 2,500	9 pledged 250
4 pledged 2,000	26 pledged other amounts
4 pledged 1,150

Of the optometrist contacted, over 44% have contributed indicating an overwhelming percentage of our alumni responding. However, our job is not done! Your Alumni Association has actively organized through the class agents to contact each member of the graduating classes. Someone will be calling upon you soon for your pledge. Please respond freely remembering that your help is needed to continue the work at M.C.O. During the March luncheon we hope to announce a substantial increase in pledges. Please help us to swell this amount. Give now!

3. ALUMNI MEETINGS — Alumni meetings initiated by the 1971 executive board, saw a change in the format. Wives were encouraged to attend and our meetings were social successes. Highlighted by the Jess Cain night last Spring, and our holiday party this December, the response has been encouraging and we urge you to become acquainted with your fellow colleagues as we increase our alumni gatherings. And I'm sure your wife will be happy to have another night out!

4. ALUMNI REPRESENTATION ON BOARD OF TRUSTEES — As a further step in enhancing the image of the Alumni Association as well as taking a more active role in the internal affairs of the college, your Alumni Association has now a total of three positions for representatives to the board of trustees. During the Fall, our second representative Dr. Alton Lamont, immediate past president, was elected by vote of the Alumni. He now joins Dr. Joseph Bickford, '65, as our representative to the board. A third representative will be elected next Fall for a term of three years.

The new year also promises exciting plans and I briefly want to mention the following:

1. ALUMNI TRIP TO MAJORCA — Many of you have requested that your Alumni Association sponsor another trip. Arrangements are now being completed for a one week trip to Majorca during the week of April 17th. Mark your calendars now and be prepared to join us as we enjoy a week of "sun and fun." Cost details and trip information will be published shortly.

2. MARCH ANNIVERSARY LUNCHEON — This year at the 50th Anniversary of N.E.C.O. our March luncheon promises to be the best ever. The reservation blank is enclosed elsewhere in this bulletin. I urge you to mail your check now so you may be included among those attending. Special recognition to certain alumni is planned as well as a surprise testimonial to a unique optometrist!

3. SPRING ALUMNI MEETING — "Go West young man!" This has been the hue and cry from alumni from Western Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and New York. So we are going West on May 2, 1972 with a special alumni meeting in Chicopee. A special bus will be chartered to bring alumni from the Boston area to join others from our "sister states as we meet for fun and fellowship in Chicopee. Mark your calendar now.

NOTES FROM THE BACK OF AN ENVELOPE . . .

The response to the balloting for our alumni representative was tremendous and I commend you for your participation.

The board of trustees has suggested that we be on the look-out for any of our patients who might be willing to donate to the M.C.O. building fund. Frequently some people are looking for educational institutions in which they can invest their money and know it will be well used. If you know of anyone please contact Dr. Baldwin or Dr. Kamens at the college.

Our membership rolls continued to increase and we now have 478 active dues-paying members. As of this date, we have fifteen more members than last year.

Again this year we will hold an open house during the N.E.C.O. Congress. Many new changes have been made at the college and we urge you to take advantage of the opportunity to tour your school.

See you in March!

SCANNING ELECTRON

The above picture shows our President, Dr. William R. Baldwin, standing beside a series of scanning electron micrographs of the vertebrate retina. This display, which can be seen in the rotunda of our new building at 424 Beacon Street, is a gift from the Dow Chemical Company. The series, which is the first of its kind, was done at the Dow Chemical Company's research facilities in Midland, Michigan, by P. H. Cleveland and C. W. Schneider, Ph.D. The unique view of the retina provided by this technique can only be amply appreciated when one actually sees these micrographs, depicting the highly magnified three-dimensional complexity of the retina. We at the Massachusetts College of Optometry are sincerely grateful to the Dow Chemical Company and to Dr. Schneider for this educational gift.

PAUL W. LAPPIN, O.D., Ph.D., coordinator and Associate Professor of Environmental Optometry at the Massachusetts College of Optometry has been appointed a member of the Z-136 Standards Committee of the American National Standards Institute (ANSI).

BUILDING FUND DRIVE GETS BOOST

On December 13th, 1971, a dinner meeting of Fall River Optometrists was held. Present at this affair were thirteen (13) optometrists among whom were five (5) major contributors to the Building Fund. Fall River can be proud to boast that it is the city with the largest number of major contributors from any city in New England. Dr. William R. Baldwin, President of the Massachusetts College of Optometry, presented plaques to the five Optometrists.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MEMBERS HOST SENIOR CLASS MEMBERS

The annual event at which representative members dined and socialized with the members of the 4th year class was held at the Parker House, historic eating place for generations in the City of Boston, on the evening of November 11th, 1971.

With the exception of two members of the Senior Class who were unable to attend due to prior commitments, the entire class enjoyed the social hour, the good food, and the informative discussions with the members of the Alumni Association, the representative members of the State Society and the State Board of Examiners. Dr. Glen Gulezian, '65, President of the Alumni Association, welcomed the class as guests of the Association and expressed the desire of the Association to aid and counsel the class members in their transition from students to full members of our profession. Dr. Alfred Roy, '37, as a representative of the State Society, related some of the amusing and serious aspects of his professional beginning years. Dr. Fred Wagner, '39, member of State Board of Examiners, outlined some of the unresolved problems facing Optometry such as acceptance of specific soft contact lenses by the F.D.A., proper handling of the requirement of use of impact-resistant lenses in all eyeglasses, and other problems facing professionals in Public Health.

Many specific questions from Senior Class members were answered by various alumni in the free discussion period that followed. The friendly spirit that prevailed throughout the evening should carry over when the Senior Class, as a group, becomes involved in Alumni activities after graduation in June of 1972.

HOLIDAY MEETING HELD ON DECEMBER 3rd

The Fall Meeting of the Alumni Association which was scheduled for December 3rd, 1971 instead of its usual November date was acclaimed a success - by all those who attended. Held at the Colonial Inn in Lynnfield, Massachusetts, it proved once more that its central location, its adequate facilities for any size function and its considerate and efficient service will make the Colonial a first consideration in any further Alumni meetings of a business and social nature. The 75 guests who attended included members from locations as distant as Martha's Vineyard and Fall River and members from MCO classes of 1929 up through the Class of 1971. Dr. William Baldwin, President of the College attended with his wife, Honey. All enjoyed the dancing to the music of an orchestra specially engaged for the occasion.

After the business part of the meeting, during which the result of the Alumni Representative election was announced, door prizes were awarded to Dr. Bernard Issokson '43, Dr. Marshall Mark '42, Dr. Alfred Roy '37, Dr. James Collins '29. The table decorations were given to those selected by a unique process that provoked considerable amusement. All ladies received favors donated by a cosmetic firm, Lady Finelle, located in Haverhill, Mass., hometown of Dr. Gulezian, President of the Association. The firm also donated the ladies' door prize, a complete make-up kit won by the wife of Aram Gulezian, '34 father of Alumni Association President.

Dr. Gulezian re-asserted his belief that social and business meetings of this type will make the Alumni Association and its members more cohesive and responsive to our needs and the needs of the College.

He is a member of the International Reading Association; A.O.F.; O.E.P.; and A.O.A. Dr. Herrle practices in Wallingford, Connecticut.

1st YEAR CLASS REPORT

by Harvey Rappoport

The promise of this year's freshman class is being shown by its self-initiated involvement with many aspects of Optometry and the community. The class is also engaged in many inter and intra-class activities.

Despite its large size, 68, the largest entering class ever, and varied student backgrounds, the class has succeeded in co-ordinating plans which allow for all to participate in vision screening programs in Health Centers throughout the city and suburbs. It has plans to adopt an orphanage and has set up committees to deal with student housing, athletic and social activities. Under Faculty guidance, the class is adjusting to a new college with its new buildings and new curriculum both instituted upon its arrival.

A student-faculty social hour was enjoyed by all as well as an all-college mixer.

The class '76 is enthusiastically looking forward to our four year experience at M.C.O. and to our careers in our chosen profession.

2nd YEAR CLASS NEWS

by Paul Kantrowich

During November and December the 2nd year class at M.C.O. has been doing school screenings at the Douglas MacArthur Elementary School in Waltham, Mass., a Headstart Pre-nursery in Framingham, and at a School for the Deaf in Randolph, Mass.

Over 250 children were examined during these sessions, with about 25% being referred out for visual problems. We were gratefully received at all the schools and we enjoyed the experience as much, if not more, than the children themselves.

During Thanksgiving week, a member of our Class Public Relations Committee, Henry Stevens, attended a meeting of the Massachusetts Society of Optometrists in Boston. Hank discussed our school and class efforts in Optometric public relations and participated in discussions concerning the image of Optometry, education of the public as to the needs Optometry fulfills in the community, and high school recruitment for the profession.

Congratulations are in order to Charles and Joyce Bailey for being the proud new parents of baby Chuck III, born on December 5th, 1971 at 6:20 A.M. at Boston Lying-in Hospital. Baby Chuck III weighed 7 lbs. 10 oz. and his father, after doing static skiametry, concluded their son was hyperopic.

Congratulations, also, to Arnie Mischon, who recently announced his engagement to Miss Lori Stein of Miami Beach, Florida. Miss Stein is currently attending Leslie College in Boston. Although the big decision was made, no date has been set at the moment.

Robert Rosenstein is our new class ping-pong champion, having won the championship in an elimination event in November. Bob ran through most of his opponents easily and is ready to challenge Dr. Natrajan of the Faculty for the MCO championship; Dave Momnie, Chuck Bailey, and Hank Stevens were the other semi-finalists.

The entire student body owes thanks to Ken Kublin, 2nd year student, for his efforts in revitalizing the MCO Bookstore, making it a more efficient and progressive operation.

Five 2nd year students were placed on the Dean's List for their academic excellence last year. They are:

Roger Hill	Sharon Schutz
Don Hill	Richard d'Addio
Tom Mueller

The 2nd year class extends its best wishes for a wonderful Holiday Season to all members of MCO, their families, and to all within the Optometric Community. While we students usually hope for good grades and good rapport with the Faculty, more importantly, we pray for world peace and harmony.

DIVISION OF SPECIAL STUDIES ESTABLISHED

Special Studies. The purposes of this division are to coordinate academic programs outside of the formalized O.D. program. These include the Ph.D. program with Northeastern University; the Optometric Technician's Program with Fisher Junior College; Continuing Education for Practicing Optometrists; and Post-Graduate Education for Practicing Optometrists.

To the alumni of the College, these latter two activities are of extreme importance. We designate Post-Graduate Education, as distinct from Continuing Education, as those courses which offer college credit and which are taught at an academic level and with which more college evaluation techniques are utilized to establish the enrolled student's comprehension and absorption of the material presented.

Continuing Education consists of quality one or two-day courses and, as we are planning for this summer, five-day courses that provide the practitioner with education without the formalized academic structure and evaluation.

A good example of a Post-Graduate course is "Optometric Pharmacology for Practicing Optometrists" which is currently being conducted in Rhode Island to fulfill certain legislative requirements of their new law. This course is being coordinated by the Division of Special Studies. The men who successfully complete this course will receive an official MCO transcript for 4 credit hours. The course consists of 54 hours of didactic material and 30 hours of clinical laboratory experience, which is completed in the College clinics in small groups.

Because we feel the material contained in this course should be available to all optometrists in the New England area, we are beginning to offer this course to other states.

You will be interested to know that this course is being offered to the Massachusetts optometrists and we plan to start on January 26, 1972. By the time you read this, you should have received an initial announcement and an information form to be returned to the College if you are interested in taking this course. Upon receipt of this information form, complete details will be mailed to those responding with a registration form for completion.

If you did not receive or mislaid this initial announcement, please contact the College immediately by telephone indicating your interest and requesting complete details of the program:

One of the important functions of the Division of Special Studies is to enable the practicing optometrist to continue to be educated during the whole of his professional life. We hope that you will become involved in our program, and we stand ready to receive any suggestions or recommendations that you may have. You will receive further announcement regarding other planned programs for this spring and summer in due course.
